a man to Jersey City to take his life. The two men. Cono Pizzinno, of No. til his contract with Conried expires. 213 West Thirteenth Street, and John Taomini, of No. 105 Thompson street, NEEDS 20 TRAINED NURSES. were arrested in this city and looked up at Police Headquarters.

Detective Ricco, of Jersey City, said that on Tuesday night two men who are already in prison in that city, Salvator Pizzinno, of No. 128 Thompson street, and Joseph Libri, of No. 220 Twelfth street, Jersey City, with Pizginno's brother and Taomini, took Joseph Gerbrino, of No. 178 Thompson street, to the Twelfth street bouse. When they got him into a room they tied him, the detective said, to a chair and each man drew a large dirk. According to the detective, the four men accused him of betraying their ascrets. A live rabbit was brought into the room and the men placed it in a cage on the table. Then, speaking in Italian, they are alleged to have said: What we are going to do to the rabbit will be done to you."

The rabbit was taken from the cage

The rabbit was taken from the classes and first, the detective said, the Italians gut its legs off and then chorsed its body to pieces. Every few minutes, it is alleged, they would turn to Gerbrino and say:

"We are going to do this to you."

After the rabbit had been carved up the men got a gas stove and cooked the mess' which Gerbrino was compelled to eat.

Afterward his captors took Gerbrino down the stairs, and, surrounding him, started toward the railroad tracks. On the way Gerbrino pleaded for his life and so impressed labri that he left the party. Then Gerbrino made a dash and ran toward a store. He found the door locked, and the three men were almost on top of him. Without hesitating he fumped through the window. The smashing of the glass was heard by pollegmen, who arrested Salvator Pix imno and Libri. The other two men shaway and came to this city, where the street hem.
